| Impressions /Comments | This IEL went as planned as a succession of presentations from returning students from their respective International Project. The evening was very enjoyable, and all attendees showed a high degree of interest for the experiences of other fellow students, often asking questions about the bureaucracy of GSDM International Project funding, or the logistics of travelling, finding accommodation, or adjusting to a new work environment. Everybody enjoyed the numerous pictures showed in the various presentations, which displayed very diverse countries and university campuses from countries around the world. The evening certainly provided valuable information about how to prepare, what to expect in relation to the GSDM International Project for all attending students. |
