

Students and young leaders present their ideas to Prime Ministers, CEOs, Nobel Laureates, and other global leaders at the St. Gallen Symposium.

Robots are coming for your job.
How do you augment yourself to stay economically relevant?

CREATE AN IMPACT | TRAVEL TO SWITZERLAND
ALL EXPENSES PAID | MEET TODAY'S LEADERS
WIN CHF 30,000 | JOIN A GLOBAL COMMUNITY

Students, apply now:
www.symp.sg/apply
Closing date: 1 February 2018

SEIZE THE OPPORTUNITY

Take part in the St. Gallen Wings of Excellence Award 2018 to qualify for participation as a “Leader of Tomorrow” in the world’s premier opportunity for intergenerational debates: The 48th St. Gallen Symposium (2–4 May 2018).

- » Join the debate with 600 top global leaders and decision makers
- » All expenses paid for travel, board, and lodging; travel service provided
- » Meet 200 of the world’s brightest young minds
- » Present your thoughts and visions to hundreds of international leaders
- » Win the world’s foremost student essay contest, CHF 30,000.– prize money
- » Celebrate the symposium’s 30th competition since 1989
- » Become a member of a unique global community

WRITE AN EXCELLENT ESSAY

Robots are coming for your job. How do you augment yourself to stay economically relevant? Author Yuval Noah Harari claims that the rapid progress of artificial intelligence technology will render the human species economically useless within decades. Imagine a world in which humans fight back, harnessing AI and other technologies to stay economically indispensable – and, ultimately, competitive against the computers. Describe the job you aspire to in the future, how it will potentially be influenced by AI, and how you would augment yourself technologically if necessary to prevail in your chosen career. Present your own idea to convince the jury!

CHECK ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

You must be born in 1988 or later and enrolled in a graduate or postgraduate level study programme (Master level or higher) in any field of study at a regular university as of 1 February 2018.

Register now at symp.sg/apply and submit your essay no later than 1 February 2018. All essays will be judged by an independent jury composed of academics and business executives. The 100 best competitors get invited to the 48th St. Gallen Symposium. The three best competitors win the prestigious Award, which celebrates its 30th competition since 1989.

Leaders of Tomorrow Talk in 2017 with Charles O. Holliday Jr., Royal Dutch Shell plc.

Swiss Re

